JERSEY CITY.

Ex-Mayor Gilbert F. Collins, of Jersey City, said resterday that he would appeal from the decision of Chancellor McGill against the alleged George P. Gordon Chancellor McGill against the alleged George P. Gordon will, offered for probate by Henry C. Adams, of Woodbridge. Mr. Collins said he believed the will was genuine. Adams swore that he saw the drafting of the will and witnessed it signed in 1866. Chancellor McGill's decision advances the theory that Adams ferged the will of George P. Gordon which failed of probate in Brooklyn because of technical irregularity.

NEW-BRUNSWICK

The Supreme Court of New-Jersey on Friday set aside as illegal an ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen of New-Brunswick in June, 1801. The ordinance prohibited the holding of any public exhibition within the city, to which admission should be erged, within 400 feet of a dwelling, unless the consent of the residents was first obtained. The passage of the ordinance was due to the removal of the Rutgers College Athletic Association to the grounds given to it by James Neilson, City Treasurer of New-Brunswick. The grounds were so laid out that oppor-Brunswick. The grounds were so laid out that opportunity was given for witnessing the athletic contests from unobserved positions behind hedges and fences on adjoining properties, and many boys availed themselves of the opportunities. The people objected, and at all exhibitions the college authorities provided police protection for the properties. The Board of Aldermen, however, interessed themselves in the matter, and passed the ordinance. Mayor Van Cleef vetoed it, but the board passed it over his veto. The college authorities did not believe that the ordinance could stand, and violated it in order to invite a test case. There was no attempt to enforce the ordinance, and the association itself carried the matter to the Supreme Court, asking that it be set aside as illegal. The Supreme Court declared it illegal and null.

RUTHERFORD.

A sensation was caused in Rutherford vesterday by a personal encounter between Mayor Joseph P. Cooper and Jacob Rohrbach, foreman for a local builder. The Mayor had refused permission to open a street and make connections for a water supply for some new houses. Robrbach criticised the Mayor, who made a reply, to which Rohrbach objected. The Mayor repeated the remark, and Rohrbach struck him in the mouth. William T. Cooper, the Mayor's son, then attacked Rohrbach, who quickly threw him down and held him. The Mayor tried to release his son. Finally Rohrbach released his hold and went away. No arrests have

* ARRESTED FOR FORGERIES IN VIENNA

Chicago, Feb. 25.-Jacques Licco Adult, alias Mueller, a citizen of Vienna, Austria, was arrested postoffice building at 1 o'clock this afternoon by United States Marshal Hitchcock on a charge of having forged bills of exchange amounting to $30,000 on the Hesterisch Ungarieiche Bank of Vienna. Adult has been in this country since the beginning of the year and is unable to speak the English lan-guage. The forgeries were committed in December.

MAGUIRE NOT WANTED FOR POSTMASTER.

Boston, Feb. 25 (Special) .- "The Journal" says that the Mugwumps of Boston do not want Patrick Maguire to distribute their mall for them for the next four years, and they do not intend that he shall. There was a great deal of anger among them when the candidacy of Mr. Magnire was an-nounced some time ago and they have not hesitated to say just what they think about it among them-They have never seriously thought he was a possibility with Mr. Cleveland at the helm. But they have offered some suggestions to the President-elect which will have an effect, no doubt, upon the selection of the postmaster to succeed Mr. Hart. The selection of some such a man as Colonel Charles R. Codman would please the Boston Independents There is a division even among the "short hairs" over the candidacy of Mr. Maguire. The opposition to him in his own party is largely the Cunniff element, which he overthrew,

The feeling against Maguire has grown especially strong since John E. Fitzgerald attacked him so boldly and vehemently at the monthly din-ner of the Young Men's Democratic Club Thursday night.

MILK TRAINS ON TIME AGAIN

The railroads have had a hard time since the great storm of February 22 supplying the city with milk. Almost all the little branch roads in the hills of Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Delaware, Rockland and Chenange countles of this State, as well as in the mountain country of northeastern Pennsylvania, from which this city draws its milk supplies, were blocked, and fully a score of milk trains were stalled. The deep cuts were filled with drifted sand and snow. packed so hard that it took a long time even after the storm ended to clear them out. For these reasons the daily supply of 20,000 cans of milk which this city and Brooklyn consume fell off to about 12,000 cans, and there was great delay in getting that. milk trains on the Erie, Harlem, West Shore, Lacka-wanna and Ontario and Western were all from ten to twenty-four hours behind time Thursday morning. Friday morning it was little better, but yesterday, although there was still several hours' delay, the officers of the roads all reported the situation better. For three days, however, many families, especially up-town, had to go without milk for breakfast. There was a run on the grocery stores supplying condensed milk, and many bables suffered. The short supply also prevented many milkmen yesterday from furnishing families an extra number of bottles for Sunday, as is usual. By to-morrow, however, unless an-

Statements that there is a great deal of sickness in this city this winter because of the scant supply of milk since January I are unfounded, as the rall-road reports show that the usual quantity of milk has reached the city daily until this last storm. On Thursday morning at some of the railway platforms as high as $10 was offered for a can of forty quarts

CHARGED WITH THE LARCENY OF BONDS.

Rodney R. Jordan, thirty-three years old, of No. 11 West Eighteenth-st., was held in $1,000 bail for trial yesterday by Justice Ryan, in the Tombs Police Court, on the charge of embezzling $960 worth of The complainant was Eliza J. Evans, who hves in the same house with the prisoner. She said that on February 8 she purchased two ₹500 bonds of the Keith & Perry Gold Company, of Kansas City, paying 8060 for them. Jordan, on February 10, had nduced her to give them to him to learn their market able value. On February 14, she says, he sold them to J. A. Sly for $640, receiving in payment a check, which he had cashed, by C. A. Brockway & Company his employers. He had refused to give her the money. At the examination, which was held in the Justice's private room, the fact was brought out that Miss Evans had made a number of wills, leaving her property to Jordan. These she had torn up when she quarrelled with Jordan, which frequently happened.

A report was circulated yesterday that the Colum-Park-ave., had been sold. Oscar Hammerstein, the wner of the theatre, said to a Tribune reporter last The report is incorrect. I said some time ago that I was willing to sell the Columbus Theatre had more theatres on my hands than I could look I have just sold two apartment-houses in One hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., opposite the Columbus Theatre. That, I suppose, has started the rumor that the theatre itself has been sold."

THE CHURCH OF THE STRANGERS TO MOVE

A NEW SITE TO BE CHOSEN IN THE UPPER PART OF THE CITY.

"History," says Macaulay, "is a compound of poetry and philosophy," This definition should seem to be particularly true when applied to the history of the Church of the Strangers. It was at this church known formerly as the Mercer Street Church, that Mis-Crawford, afterward Mrs. Vanderbilt, and her mother attended divine services while in the city, and became deeply impressed with the eloquence and goodness the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, the paster. Crawford in the summer of 1869 became the wife of commostore Cornelius Vanderbilt. Through his will the Commodore was led to take a deep interest in the work of Dr. Deems, who had been preaching to strangers was for sale. There Commodore Vanderbilt saw as opportunity not only to please his wife, but to aid od work. Through Dr. Deems $50,000 was offered for the church property, and it was accepted. Dr Deems was placed in charge of the church, which was named the "Church of the Strangers." The church, with its interesting history, however, will soon be only a memory. Its site, owing to many changes in that part of the city, is no longer desirable. of trustees, of which S. B. Downs is chairman, t looking for a new site somewhere in the neighborh of Fiftieth-st., on the West Side

The ground on which the church stands is owne become extremely valuable. The lease which th trustees hold has two and a half years to run yet and it is hoped that a sum may be realized on a new building elsewhere.

The Rev. Dr. Deems, who is now seventy-two years old, has been for the last six weeks suffer log from a stroke of paralysis, which has deprived him of the use of his right side. His condition during the last week has somewhat improved, and work along the present successful lines. In less than ten minutes subscriptions of over $0,300 were pledged by associations and individuals.

The evening session was called to order at 7:30 o'clock. The copidition of the railroad branches was the topic discussed by George A. Warburton, of New-York. Addresses were also made by Z. H. Thatcher, of Burfalo, and others. L. D. Wishard, secretary of the International Committee, delivered an address on "The Horotogy of the International Committee, delivered an address on "The Ground one. MILKING A MOOSE.

From The Lewiston Journal.

From The Lewiston Journal.

"Here's a pretty mess! The milk is all gone."
The speaker was one of a party of four New York sportsnown who, with an equal number of guides, had been crusing about on the west branch of the Penobsot, but were now camping on the shores of Chamberlain Lake, preparatory to returning to North East Carry. They had been out longer than they had planned, and some of the supplies had become exhausted.

Then turning to the guides, who were lying at full length on the ground quietly enjoying the young blood's discomfiture, he asks: "Isn't there a farmhouse or hotel near where we could hav yours!"

"Depends on what you call near!" replied a woodsman. "If you don't reckon forty miles far, then we are near a house, but that's about the distance—maybe a trille more. You want milk powerful bad, don't you? Well, you fill up on water to night and maybe in the morning I can accommodate you, though, mind you, I don't promise?

"You'll have to get a move on you," said one of the other guides, "If you are going fo try to make the Carry 'tween this and to morrow" well knowing that the journey in that time was impossible. "For, blast me, Annance, if I know where you're going to find the coiler of milk nearer than that."

Annance made no response, but puffed silently at his favorite pipe. He had an idea, though, that he could get some milk, but he did not mean to tell how. That night, unnoticed, he left the camp about sunset, walked slowly through the woods for about a mile, and again came out on the shore of the lake at a point where a small stream formed an outlet.

This was near the place where he had seen the cow more, and here he took up his position beside a trail leading to the water's edge, and along which he coiled see, if his knowledge of woodcraft did not deceive him, that the moose was in the heard the sound of some animal approaching, and peering cautiously through the bushes he saw a cow moose making for the pool.

some animal approximity, and permit cautious through the bushes he saw a cow moose making for the pool.

The animal suitled the air a few times as she passed within a dozen paces of the hunter, but otherwise she did not show signs of alarm. She was soon in the water ridding herself of the files and quenching her thirst.

While the moose was disporting herself Annance left has position behind the bush and walked a few steps toward her, and whenever she turned he would stand perfectly motionless.

By repeating this operation several times, he managed to reach the edge of the lake without alarming the moose. As soon as the animal showed any signs of leaving the water, the guide retreated a few steps, once or twice did the moose rates her head and look at him, only, however, to resume her clumsy froites.

Presently the moose made toward the shore, and Annance concealed himself behind the brush again. At the edge of the lake the animal turned to take a last look and shake the spray from her nose. Then she naturated stowly up the sloping bank. When opposite the guide she sniffed something, stopped and looked around.

That was the guide's obance, and he knew it.

That was the guide's chance, and he knew it.

The critical moment had arrived, and with one quick but sitent movement he was by the animal's side.
She did not move except to turn her head and look at him. Annance kept hear her bind quarters, well knowing that if he got in front of the moose he would not stand much chance should she become ugly.
Cautionsly bending forward the hunter stroked her sides and allowed her to turn and smell of him. After a few seconds, seeing the moose did not appear fright.

Returning to camp, he produced the milk when breakfast was ready in the morning, having kept the pall in the water overnight, much to the astonishment of the giddes and sportsmen.

People who visit Moosehead often hear of Charles Annance spoken of as the "dairyman," and the foregoing story is what gives him the nickname.

REPORTS FROM THE WHEAT FIELDS.

FROST COMING OUT OF THE GROUND AND SIGNS OF SPRING ARE NUMEROUS.

Chicago, Feb. 25 (Special).-Reports on the crops from Texas show that the wheat has begun to grow and its general condition is much better than at this time last year. There is an unusual demand for corn. During the present week in Tennessee have had plenty of rain, which has improved the wheat in some localities and developed the damage Kentucky has also experienced rains but they have been followed by freezes at night. The winter wheat has just begun to grow. The early sown is in much the better condition. A moderate crop of wheat is looked for, but not equal to last year. Oklahoma reports the winter when looking well. The frost is all out of the ground farmers are sowing oats, and the winter who begun to grow. The above reports, taking in the extreme southern area of the winter wheat country all show the opening of spring under favorable cir-ground, and the earth generally dry. The State needs good rain. Southern Missouri reports the ground are of snow and frost out of the ground. Late sown wheat is more or less damaged. The weather the There has been some rain, and on the opening of the reek a fall of snow. The frost is coming out of the ground fast. The general appearance of winter wheat at this time is much poorer than at the same time last year. Complaints of damaged wheat are increasing. There is plenty of moisture in the ground. The late sown wheat has suffered more than the early sown. Southern Illinois reports the frost about all out of the ground. Reports as to damage are namer ous. In Southern Indiana they have had a heavy snow the present week, but it is rapidly going off. There is plenty of moisture in the ground, and when is just beginning to show signs of life. own wheat has suffered severely, and the general conditions of the crop are not as good as those of year ago. All the indications point to an early spring In Northern and Central Indiana there is not enough frost in the ground to hold any amount water long on the top. In Northern Ohio the wheat ins been covered the present week with about three inches of snow. There are few reports of any damage condition exists. Michigan is still in the depths of which will give ample moisture for the spring As to spring wheat prospects Nebraska reports that ill signs indicate an early spring. With present conditions seeding will be quite general in ten days A feeling of general encouragement as regards spring prospects exists among Minnesota farmers. In South Pulkota they are talking about sowing much le-wheat this spring than usual, and increasing the accesse of badley, which has done well for the le-two years, and also planting a great deal more cor-fowa returns favorable reports.
